

Why take the risk?

If you're unsure, vote NO

If elected, everyone in the unit – even those who voted no – would be subject to the union's rules, required to pay dues, and forced to accept the contract that union bosses negotiate on their behalf.

Once elected, unions are very difficult to remove from the workplace. The process is formally dictated by the National Labor Relations Board and doesn't happen overnight.

Learn more at GetTheFactsSMG.com and
Please vote NO in the upcoming election

